

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Integrated seat units for aircraft. The systems take all incoming signals that will be used by a passenger sitting in an aircraft seat and route the signals to receivers that the passenger can access. The signals may be routed over the aircraft bus in a wireline or wireless environment.